

SOVREN
SEASONAL CREW

Sovren – Seasonal crew solutions

Freedom is one of the greatest things that yachting has to offer. Sovren believes that this sense of freedom should extend to how you employ your crew. All too often the sheer amount of administration gets in the way of the experience. Too much work – not enough play.

Now you can forget legal, contractual and financial requirements; we provide crew as you need them. You simply have a contract with Sovren and we do the rest.

Sovren flexibility; professional crew from day worker to fully employed captain – when you need them.

Instead of hiring crew, hire Sovren.

We'll spare you the details

We quickly source candidates to fit your requirements and handle all of the day-to-day administration. With ever-increasing international employment legislation, Sovren gives you peace of mind. It is such a simple solution: draw up a brief, interview our shortlisted candidates, receive our straightforward invoice.

We handle everything else:

- Profiling and due diligence of the yacht, owner and crew member.
- Employment contract. The candidate is employed by Sovren.
- Social security. All social security payments are handled by us.
- Remuneration. No last minute cash payments, no mislaid bank details, Sovren pays motivated employees on a simple, signed, time-sheet basis.
- Simple payment terms, set up to meet your requirements.

Forget legal, contractual and financial administration, we provide crew
as you need them.

Owner's crew care

Take care of your crew and unsurprisingly the crew will take care of you. We make that easier by taking care of all the issues that could be cause for concern.

There are no conflicts, discipline or financial issues, no work permit or employment contract concerns because the crew work for Sovren and deliver services to the yacht.

We have so much experience dealing with owners, managers, captains and crew that we will be able to give advice on everything from uniforms and food budgeting, to safety and service standards.

Sovren takes care of your crew,
the crew will take care of you.

Sovren Advantage

Seasonal Crew is the latest initiative within our Sovren Advantage package. No other company in the industry offers such a complete service at such a competitive rate via a simple monthly fee.

From entirely looking after your yacht through to providing a deckhand for a day, Sovren gives you back the freedom to simply enjoy your yacht.

Sovren Advantage provides a full range of services for both charter and private status.
